Prof. Ireland Writes Entertainingly on His Trip to Washington.

Through the kindness of Stanford's splendid Board of Education, it was the pleasure of the writer of this article to be granted a leave of absence for one week, in order to attend the National Educational Association held at Washington. On Saturday, the anniversary of the first president's birth, while one of Stanford's leading industries was threatened with destruction by fire, I started for the city which so fitly memorializes "The Father of His Country." It was my great pleasure to go in company with Supt. Mark, of Louisville, and others whom I joined at Cincinnati at 5:45 P. M. We left that city via the B. & O. Southwestern. After passing the Monongahela river we could see not only the snow capped Alleghenies but also the snow-clad foothills of the Shenandoah Valley, along whose banks the peerless Jackson marched in 1862. In a short while we reached Harper's Ferry, where this same redoubtable leader forced Col. Miles to surrender. The memory of this fact caused our hearts to swell with pride, but when we afterwards visited Arlington, that beautiful place of the Lees, confiscated by the Union soldiers, that upheaval became a pronounced depression. After passing many almost sacred spots, we arrived at Washington about 1 P. M. After meeting our clever Congressman (who ought to be sent back again) who did many kindnesses DE BONNE GRACE, we made a visit to the Congressional Library, for it is open on Sundays from 2 to 10. Just here we might pause for a short time, for this building erected at a cost of more than $6,000,000, is a work of art, than which there are none superior, and few approach it. As we went into the vestibule of the front pavilion, we were almost entranced at entrance. The white marble of this part is from Italy and the gold of the ceiling like that of the dome, is 22 karats fine. No hall in the world surpasses this in magnificence. The ornate work with foliated designs presents to the eye a scene of, we may say, shuddering delight. The central stair, a vision of polished stone, with its vast proportions and its richness and harmony of adornment is most truly a type of America's greatest architectural improvement. It is a matter for patriotic pride to know that the conception, design and execution are all products of America's talent and workmanship. One would have to be Janus-faced and Argus-eyed and possess almost universal knowledge to see and comprehend all the decorations and workmanship of the various corridors and pavilions. For this reason I shall not attempt anything further than a mere mention of the more prominent features.

The Progress of Civilization is given by means of paintings and statues. The Progress of Literature and the professions are in a like manner delineated. Law is represented by such characters as Kent, Taney, Webster and the like. Poetry, by Emerson and Holmes. Theology, by Mather, Edwards, Beecher, Brooks, et al. The muses, or daughters of Jupiter and Mnemosyne are so pictured as to suggest that particular part of literature, art or science over which each was assigned the presidency, as Clio, of history, Erato of love-poetry, and so on.

On the second floor of the North corridor are paintings representing the virtues and these, of course, are floating female figures, each wearing or holding her appropriate emblem. Concordia with an olive branch, Industry with her spindle. The senses are idealized in art, also as young women. Smell is inhaling the fragrance of a full-blown American beauty rose. Taste is sipping from a shell. The Fates, who start, spin and cut the thread of life are also to be seen in the ceiling panels. Milton's choicest poems, L'Allegro and Il Penseroso, the former describing the charms of a merry social life, the latter voicing the quiet yet deep enjoyment of a scholar in retirement, are presented to us by paintings of women, each a characteristic type of the personified quality. There are also before us The Graces, The Four Elements, The Arts, Sciences, Seasons, etc.

The Progress of Civilization in the collar of the dome is a symbolism of the 12 nations and epochs which have contributed to the world's advance.

In this Library are 300,000 books, which any one may read, but only Congressmen and government officials may draw out. For the benefit of Congress, books are sent to the Capitol by means of a tunnel. One might stay in this store-house for years and then but feebly grasp its treasures, for it is indeed a thesaurus. In various places accompanying appropriate figures, are quotations, among the most impressive of which is one from "Sweetest Shakespeare Fancy's Child:"

Ignorance is the curse of God, Knowledge the wing wherewith we fly to heaven.

This, as Dryden says of truth, is of such a face and mien as to be loved, needs but to be seen.

On Monday, Feb. 24, in company with several superintendents I visited Franklin School, where the office of superintendent of schools of D. C. is, and to our utter astonishment we found recitations being conducted in the hallways and on various landings because of the crowded conditions. Except in Sloyd work and in case of special instructors I found their corps of teachers but little better equipped than those of our own Stanford Graded School. I will not go into detail in this line as this is of interest to the teachers chiefly. In the afternoon, through the kindness of Mr. Helm I was conducted through the Legislative and Judicial departments and I saw them engaged in active duty. We find only men, not deities there. It is a scene worth beholding to see these solons, the guardians of our portals. More to be admired, however, is the Supreme Court. We saw it in session and heard Attorney General Bonaparte presenting an argument. This body occupies the room which was used for the Senate chamber till 1859. John Jay was the first to be chief justice and we have had only eight. Chief Justice Fuller with his long hair and that dignity refined by courteous bearing, impresses one with a feeling of reverential awe. However, we can say without bias that Justice Harlan, of Kentucky, has the most stately and statesmanlike appearance and we might say, judicial bearing. The solons of both houses of Congress seemed fully cognizant of the fact that the future welfare of the nation rested on their shoulders and that they bore a burden heavier than Aetna. It was our pleasure to see some of the celebrities, such as Tillman, of South Carolina, the blind Senator Gore, of the new State, Oklahoma, Joe Bailey, of Texas, et al. After watching the denizens of the building, we felt it would be profitable to take a hasty view of the interior of the building itself and mural decorations. In the Rotunda Canopy is the Apotheosis of Washington, which contains 16 characters. These are Washington, the central figure, with Freedom on his right hand and Victory on his left, while about these are 13 supernatural figures representing the 13 original colonies and these are flanking the immortal banner with the inscription, "E Pluribus Unum." Many superb paintings adorn the walls, each used to illustrate some decisive historical event, as Landing of Columbus, Surrender of Cornwallis, etc.

The National Statuary Hall in the central part, where each State may send the "effigies of two of her chosen sons in marble or bronze to be placed permanently here," (and we look in vain for two of Kentucky's noble sons,) we note the figures of Fulton, of Pennsylvania, Winthrop, of Massachusetts, and Austin, of Texas, and men of similar fame. It was peculiarly striking to note the figure of Frances E. Willard, of Illinois, because of the fact that she is the first woman to be given a place in Statuary Hall and also because of the principles she advocated. On the pedestal is inscribed Miss Willard's eloquent plea for women.

At the first landing of one of the stairways is a picture of The Emancipation Proclamation's first reading in September, 1862. We pass from the Capitol Edifice by a subway under New Jersey Avenue to the office building of members of the Lower House. It is built of marble, has 410 rooms, cost $2,500,000 and was first occupied this year. A similar building is being erected on the opposite side of the Capitol for the use of Senate members. Is this evidence of the boasted economy of the present administration? We will hasten on lest our story being done, we shall be given for our pains a world of sighs.

Arlington is now our Mecca, that famous burying ground where generals and soldiers of the Blue or sepulchred in ground that rightfully belonged to the leader of the Gray. We know that when Lee left his home to champion the cause of the South, the Federals confiscated the estate. The stones here are marked with quotations from "The Bivouac of the Dead." The lines are more than pathetic when we recall the fact that Theodore O'Hara, a native Kentuckian, wrote them to commemorate the Kentucky heroes who fell at the battle of Buena Vista in the Mexican war:

On fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead.

This and several other extracts are to be seen here and there as we wind our devious way back to Fort Meyer, which we visited the same afternoon. Here we witnessed the cavalry drill and walked through the barracks, arriving at Fort Steps too late for the last car, necessitating a long walk back to the District of Columbia side. Just as we enter Georgetown via the Aqueduct bridge we see on the bank of the Potomac, the humble Key mansion, where the author of the Star Spangled Banner, Francis Scott Key, spent many of days. Thus concludes the second day in Washington.

J. W. IRELAND.

NEWS NOTES.

Investigation of the death of Vaughan Bennett, found dead on the road near Clarksville, Tenn., is being quietly conducted, and it is believed that Bennett and his brother, Earl, who was wounded, were with a band of night riders, who were waylaid and shot by men hidden in a fence corner.

While asleep and dreaming of burglars, Hugh Hollis, of Louisville, shot and killed his wife, Evelyn Forsythe, in Washington. Hollis was arrested, but was released by direction of the Coroner's jury. Mrs. H. M. Hollis, mother of Mr. Hollis, who lives at Sonora, this State, says her son was subject to nightmares and walked in his sleep ever since he was a child.

Night riders made their first appearance in Woodford and Scott counties Friday night, burned two barns and a corncrib and warned Capt. James T. Williams not to plant tobacco beds. The riders approached within five miles of Versailles. Rewards have been offered by the County Judge of Woodford, by the Law and Order League of Woodford and by Gov. Willson. The mob passed an interurban car in which former Gov. Beckham and members of the Legislature were riding.

We take pleasure in the official announcement which we are authorized to make of the candidacy of Hon. Harvey Helm to succeed himself as Congressman from this district. Everybody in the district knows the big hearted, big bodied Representative from the Eighth, and those who have watched his course know that he is working hard for the best interests of his constituents. His democracy is unquestioned, and his capacity for, and willingness to work, has been remarked by all of his brother Congressmen at Washington. This is his first term, and he and his many friends feel that he is entitled to encouragement in the efforts he is making, and an endorsement for the good work he is doing. He has not had the chance to do all he hoped to do, but is leaving no stone unturned to merit the approbation of the people of this district. There has been some talk of opposition to him, but no candidate can go on the stump and truthfully say that he will, or can, work harder for his party and the people of this district, than Mr. Helm has worked.—Shelby County Record.

No Use To Die.

"I have found out that there is no use to die of lung trouble as long as you can get Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. J. P. White, of Rushboro, Pa. This most reliable remedy for coughs and colds, lagrippe, asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness, is sold under guarantee at Penny's Drug Store, 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free.

Good For Everybody.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled. 50c. at Penny's Drug Store.

Tied up in a sack with shoe linings John Detchner, a convict, in the penitentiary at Frankfort was carried outside the prison walls in a wagon with other material from the shoe shop. He would have gotten away had not one of his confederates in the prison tipped off Warden Mudd, who empties the sacks and located Detchner. The plan for Detchner to escape was a smooth one and was almost successful.

Eight persons were killed and many thousands of dollars' worth of property was destroyed by an explosion which wrecked a wholesale drug house at Natchez, Miss. The flames from the explosion set fire to 18 residences, seven of which were destroyed. The city has been placed under martial law.

The editor of the Mt. Vernon Signal, who is sore on Gov. Beckham because that distinguished gentleman failed to recognize his ability and to pardon a convicted criminal even when a lawyer friend of his asked it, takes us to task because we condemn the Courier-Journal and Times for helping defeat Gov. Beckham, the democratic nominee for U. S. Senator. Mr. Albright is one of those "purifiers," who got mad and wouldn't play because his idol, Senator McCreary, was defeated, and his little mite went toward beating the ex-governor. He professed to want a democrat elected but was heartily opposed to the man who had been nominated by the people. Like the other bolters, his song was "give us a democrat but don't give us Beckham," and like them he should, and doubtless does share the odium of those of his ilk. It matters not whether our editorials come from the Frankfort bureau or from Attorneys Williams and Brown they have the democratic ring and are always favorable to the nominees of the democratic party. There is no half way ground with the INTERIOR JOURNAL and it will shut up shop before it toadies to the republican party by bolting democratic nominees as the Mt. Vernon Signal, E. S. Albright, editor and owner, did in the Senatorial race.

The banquet given at Frankfort Thursday night by the Young Men's Democratic Club of that city was a success in all the word means. It was given in honor of Gov. Beckham and the true blue democrats of the Legislature and Senate, and a number of democrats from all over the State were present. The editor of this paper acknowledges thanks for an invitation and sincerely regrets his inability to be present. Lincoln county's Representative, Hon. W. H. Shanks, was one of the speakers of the occasion and he made an excellent talk. Gov. Beckham was the speaker of the evening and he acquitted himself as he always does, most admirably. His speech was a gem, well tempered and well timed. In our humble opinion he said just what he ought to have; in other words we endorse every word of it. The ex-governor did not mince words and his reference to the treacherous bolters brought forth many an amen. He announced that he would never again seek office but we hope he will change his mind. He is too valuable a man to retire to private life when there is so much good he can do in office.

BOTH Senators McCreary and Paynter delivered addresses in the Senate in response to Senator Depew's remarks, a few days ago, on the subject of night riders in Kentucky. Senator McCreary reviewed the operations of the Tobacco Trust and declared that the repeal of the 6-cent tax on tobacco was what was needed for the benefit of the farmers of his State. Senator Paynter condemned the work of the night riders and the burning of tobacco barns. "But," he added, "that involves no more turpitude than is involved in the organization of a trust to take from our people one-half the price of our product." "It is the judgment of the Democratic party, that if it was a decree of fate that Beckham should be defeated, it was better for the party and for him to be defeated by a Republican, than for the forces within the party that accomplished his defeat, to have been permitted to name a Democratic Senator," said Judge James M. Benton in his speech at the Beckham banquet at Frankfort.

FRIENDS of Hon. W. H. Shanks feel like meeting him with a brass band when he returns from Frankfort tomorrow. He has not achieved great things in law making but he has done the very best he could. He has also impressed his colleagues and others as being one of the cleanest and best men from every standpoint in either House.

The Legislature dies a natural death to-day. May those so-called democrats who caused the defeat of Gov. Beckham for U. S. Senator receive from their constituency the punishment they so richly deserve. To hades with the bolters and traitors any way.

POLITICAL.

The Eighth district Democratic convention has been postponed until next Saturday, March 21.

The House passed the postoffice appropriations bill, carrying the largest amount ever known—$222,190,392.

Gov. Johnson, of Minnesota, has accepted an invitation to address the students of Tuskegee University, Alabama, on May 26.

From the information now obtainable, it is not likely that the Aldrich bill will reach the final stages during the present week.

The House at Washington passed unanimously the bill removing tax on leaf tobacco when bought by storekeepers or dealers and sold to consumers.

Marion county republicans have organized a Fairbanks club. W. T. Hawkins is president and a Negro preacher named Wheeden is secretary.

The House and Senate are deadlocked over the McChord and Burnam tobacco bills, and there seems to be no likelihood of the passage of either at this session.

The Taft forces in the First district have preferred charges of misfeasance in office against former Senator W. J. Deboe, of the Republican State Central Committee.

Representative James B. Perkins, of New York, announced at the White House that Gov. Hughes had no chance of securing the Republican nomination for President.

Speaker W. J. Gooch, who has earned an enviable reputation for fairness as speaker of the Lower House at Frankfort, will likely be a candidate for Congress in the Third district.

Nebraska Republicans in convention at Omaha endorsed the policies of president Roosevelt and instructed their delegates to the Chicago Convention to support Taft "first, last and all the time" for the presidential nomination.

Gov. Willson signed the Creelius-Wyatt tobacco bill, providing a penalty for the sale of pooled tobacco. He also gave his official approval to the Lillard pure food and drug act, a measure similar to the National pure food law.

The Kentucky Senate defeated the McChord tobacco bill which put the tobacco business under the police power of the State, passing in its stead Senator Burnam's substitute, a drastic anti-trust law. The action of the Senate was a keen disappointment to the Burley Tobacco Society. It is believed that the House will accept the substitute. The House passed "Windy Bill" Thompson's automobile bill limiting the speed of motor cars to ten miles an hour.

Here and There.

Avery S. Winston, one of the most prominent business men of Lexington, is dead.

Night riders burned 5,000 pounds of tobacco in Mason county which was to have been delivered to the American Tobacco Company.

Two people were killed and a third person was fatally hurt when a Frisco passenger train was derailed on a trestle near Bristow, Okla.

A motor car was driven into Jerusalem Saturday, the first ever seen in that ancient city. It created a sensation among the populace.

In the Breathitt Circuit Court John and Henry Combs were given 21 years each for killing their uncle, Tom Combs. Court adjourned Saturday leaving 32 murder cases on the docket.

James Stivers shot to death Mat Todd, a prominent turnpike contractor, at Bybeetown, Madison county. The only cause assigned for the tragedy is insanity. The men were neighbors.

In the United States Court at Chicago John R. Walsh, former president of the defunct Chicago National Bank, was convicted and given the minimum sentence of five years for the illegal use of the funds of the bank.

Harry Orchard, in spite of the appeals of his attorneys, stands firm in his determination to plead guilty, and it is said he wants the death penalty pronounced. He said he told the truth in his confession and wants to die for his crimes.

Given Up To Die.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia, St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Why not let it help you? Penny's Drug Store.

Four traveling men were shot from ambush by Negroes in Webster county. The Negroes were friends of Jake McDowell, who shot the deputy town marshal of Providence, and thought the traveling men were members of a mob on the way to Dixon to lynch McDowell. J. B. Barry, of Louisville, and P. B. Carter were badly wounded.

THERE will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Lincoln county fair at the court-house at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon, March 20. It will be an important business meeting and every stockholder should be on hand or represented. James F. Cummins, sec'y.

THERE was a big meeting of the fair men of several counties Saturday but nothing worthy of mention was accomplished. The associations represented were Harrodsburg, Danville, Lancaster, Perryville, Crab Orchard and Stanford. The meeting was called for the purpose of deciding on dates and changing Stanford's dates, but nothing was done in that line.

MR. J. S. HUNDLEY, who now lives in Bullitt county, came up Friday and spent a few days with his many old friends here. He is not pleased with his adopted home and it would not surprise us if he and his family are not back in Lincoln county before many moons wax and wane. LATER.—Mr. Hundley bought the home of E. C. Walton and will move to it about April 15th.

HIGGINS.—Mrs. Rhoda Higgins, relict of Jacob Higgins, died at the home of her daughter in Ensley, Ala., and was brought to Crab Orchard and buried Sunday after services by Eld J. G. Livingston at the Christian church. She was 79 years old and all of her long life had been spent in the East End of this county. Less than a year ago she left with her daughters, Mrs. Kittie King and Miss Bettie Higgins, for Alabama, and was with them when the end came. She was a good woman and a devout member of the Christian church. A number from this place attended her burial.

In sending us a check for his paper to September, 1908, Mr. J. H. Browning, of Lexington, writes: "Continue your good work roasting those so-called Democrats who helped to defeat Gov. Beckham. If we had a few of just such men in office as Gov. Beckham is we would have better times."

AN idea of how well our people attend theatrical entertainments can be had when it is told that the opera house management brought a good show here Friday night on a guarantee and the gross receipts were $8 less than the amount paid for the attraction. Stanford does not need a play and certainly she deserves none.

HON. HARVEY HELM, our present Congressman, was in town Tuesday and made this office a most pleasant call. He gave us his announcement for reelection, which appears in this issue. Mr. Helm is making a splendid record in Congress, and the people have every reason to be proud of him. It is a custom and a good one, too—to give a representative the second nomination without opposition and, we are glad to say, the sentiment in Garrard is strongly in favor of re-nominating Mr. Helm in this way. He had a hard fight to win the nomination last year, and those Democrats to whom we have talked say unhesitatingly that he should be given another term, not only as an endorsement of his good work in Congress, but as a reward for the splendid service he has given his party. We have heard of no opposition to Mr. Helm, and trust there will be none. —Lancaster Record.

ORNDORFF.—Mr. J. R. Orndorff, one of the oldest engineers on this division of the L. & N., died at his home at Livingston Thursday afternoon and was laid to rest in Buffalo cemetery here Saturday morning after prayer, song and benediction by Revs. T. W. Barker and J. L. Yandle and Prof. J. W. Ireland. He is survived by his wife and six children. The children are Mesdames William Haver, Hugh Hagan and James F. Hocker and Messrs. Eugene, Harry and Frank Orndorff. Deceased, who was an ex-Confederate soldier and a big-hearted, clever and splendid man, was 66 years old. Diabetes was the immediate cause of his taking away. "Pap," as Mr. Orndorff was familiarly known by his railroad associates, was universally popular and was held in high esteem by the great corporation for which he worked. May the soil lie gently on the grave of the fine old gentleman.

MATRIMONIAL.

John Elliott, of Washington county, and Miss Eva Bradley, of Boyle, were tied in marriage at the Methodist Parsonage in Perryville.

Mr. James M. Saufley, of this place, and Miss Pearl Heizer, of New Haven, Nelson county, were married in Louisville Thursday evening by Rev. Dr. Egbert Smith. The marriage is the culmination of a courtship of several years' standing. Mr. Saufley met Miss Heizer a number of years ago and their acquaintanceship gradually ripened into love. A courtship followed and in a reasonable length of time they became engaged. The bride is the attractive daughter of Dr. William Heizer, a prominent physician of Nelson county. She is a pretty brunette, is an accomplished musician and above all, a sensible and a practical young woman. We congratulate Mr. Saufley on winning the heart and hand of such an excellent lady. Mr. Saufley is a son of Judge and Mrs. M. C. Saufley, is a clever young man and a capable telegraph operator. His many friends here and elsewhere are glad of his good fortune and wish him and his all the good things that can come his way. He and Mrs. Saufley have located at Somerset, where he has a good position with the Q. & C. railroad.

Tickling or dry coughs will quickly loosen when using Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers to use nothing else, even for very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung healing mountainous shrub give the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Penny's Drug Store.

We are authorized to announce Hon. Harvey Helm, of Stanford, as a candidate to succeed himself as Representative from the Eighth Congressional District. Mr. Helm is filling his first term in a very creditable and acceptable manner and feels that he is entitled to the usual Democratic custom of a second term. As is frequently stated a Congressman requires a number of years of service before he is able to command the influence necessary to be of the greatest benefit to his constituency, and there are very few members who are not given at least the four years' lease on the seat. Mr. Helm relies on his straightforward Democratic record, and his right to the second nomination, and his friends believe that these facts will be recognized by the party, which will act accordingly.—Richmond Register.

Five men were drowned when the towboat Boaz struck a pier of the Ashland and Ironton bridge. The Boaz, which is one of the most powerful towboats in the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati service, ran into a dense fog. While the crew were trying to make fast to the river bank, it is said, the tow became unmanageable and ran into the bridge.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Martha Dodd Routt was born Jan. 26, 1831. She was united in marriage with Walker G. Routt Jan. 10, 1862. Five children born to them attained maturity. Four of these, together with her husband, survive her. At an early age she professed faith in Christ, and united with the Presbyterian church at Stanford.

Throughout her long and consistent Christian life she bore eloquent testimony to the faith she professed. As the infirmities of years crept upon her, she was denied contact with the world. But when she was thus shut out from the activities of the world, she was shut into a world of sweet communion with her Redeemer. The last years were the best years of her noble, christian life; years in which she came to know her Savior better, to love him more profoundly. Her matured faith; her cheerful resignation to His providence, glorified Him whom she had so long and faithfully served.

On Monday afternoon, March 9, 1908, she passed to her glorious reward. Her funeral was conducted from the Hustonville Presbyterian church Wednesday morning at 10:30, by her pastor. A large concourse of relatives and friends followed her to her last resting place, thus honoring her memory in the hour of her supremest exaltation, the moment when, by the grace of God "death was swallowed up in victory," even as they had ever delighted to honor her during her long and useful life. By her pastor, S. B. Lander.

Remember that when the Stomach nerves fail or weaken, Dyspepsia or Indigestion must always follow. But strengthen these same weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and then see how quickly health will again return. Weak Heart and Kidney nerves can also be strengthened with the Restorative, where Heart pains, palpitation, or Kidney weakness is found. Don't drug the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Go to the cause of these ailments. Strengthen these weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and get well. A simple, single test will surely tell. Penny's Drug Store.

Hugh Hollis, Jr., who killed his wife in his sleep in Washington, has been removed to a hospital, where he is under surveillance of a nurse. Mr. Hollis is in a raving condition, and will not be able to attend the funeral of his wife.

$100.00 paid by Dr. Shoop for any recent case of Grippe or acute Cold that a 25 cent box of Preventives will not break. How is this for an offer? The Doctor's supreme confidence in these Little Candy Cold Cure Tablets—Preventives—is certainly complete. It's a $1. against 25 cents—pretty big odds. And Preventives, remember, contain no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were always broken. Safe and sure for feverish children. 48 Preventives 25c. Penny's Drug Store.
